SAUCE FOR GANDER

The grandstand play of Los Angeles some time ago, when Glendale's health officer, Dr. J C. Eckles, was arrested on a warrant sworn to by a representative of the Los Angeles Health Department for violation of a State law in sending a smallpox patient to the County Hospital under guard, but without a permit from Los Angeles, is familiar to most residents, also the virtuous indignation with which she declared she was going to SHOW these little towns that she was not to be trifled with. Less familiar is the fact which Dr. Eckles has discovered since the unpleasantness, that Los Angeles has been transporting smallpox cases from her San Fernando territory to the pest house through Glendale by way of San Fernando road without any permits from this city. The doctor has, accordingly, notified the Los Angeles health officials that this unlawful practice must stop and that an arrest will follow the next case discovered. Glendale traffic cops have been instructed to watch for violators, and it is safe to predict that our Johnnies will halt all such with real satisfaction, for they are not exempt from the human desire to prove that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, without calling any names.

LOS FELIZ ROAD WIDENING ASSURED

Improvement of Neck of Highway to the Sea of General Public Interest

The introduction of an ordinance ordering the widening of Los Feliz Road in the narrow congested portion lying between Central and San Fernando Road, though a part of routine business, was one of the most important acts of last Thursday's meeting. The great bulk of the through traffic from Pasadena and other foothill cities to Hollywood and the Santa Monica beach passes through this narrow neck and the widening will be welcomed by the whole countryside. It will, however, be some time before proceedings are sufficiently advanced for the board to let the contract.

DALTON BOUGHT AUTO WITH LOOT FROM ROBBERY

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 1.—Dalton, guarded by two detectives, and his loot—minus a $500 bond sold to buy an automobile—came back home. While he was being brought back from Bloomington, Ill., where he was taken from Heyworth, State's Attorney Robert M. Crowe and his assistants were busy preparing their case against the youth whose robbery was the largest in Chicago's history. Upon his arrival at the detective bureau, Dalton was booked on a charge of larceny. He is being held in an isolated cell at the detention home.

The immunity offer of officials of the Northern Trust Company, out of whose offices Dalton walked last Thursday noon carrying his enormous loot, will not prevent Dalton's rigorous prosecution, it was announced today. Both State's Attorney Crowe and John S. Lord, attorney for Lloyds, the bonding agency which paid a $26,000 reward Saturday night for Dalton's capture, declared that the lad must be punished to the full extent of the law. It is expected he will be tried and sentenced this week, within seven days of the time he committed his theft.

While Dalton's widowed mother and two sisters were sobbing over the downfall of Willie, down in Heyworth, Ill., Deputy Sheriff Jack Draper, crippled world war veteran, was making plans today in which a Montana homestead and a Heyworth young woman will play prominent parts. Draper also planned to reward James Dennis, who gave Dalton his "lift" on the road out of Bloomington and later told the deputy sheriff. Court action was started, however, by Dennis to stop payment on the check given Draper Saturday night.

Others engaged in the chase also plan to contest for a share of the $26,000.

As for Willie he is ready to take medicine. He does not expect or want leniency, he declares, despite his mother's plea that he be paroled to her.

"I don't approve of that sort of thing," he says, strangely enough. "It's wrong."

"No, sir," he continued. "Judge Landis was wrong. I read about the case of Francis Carey in the papers. I got down to the part where the judge said he would release the boy without bonds. That may have been all right just to give him a chance to support his mother. But if Carey is guilty he should be punished. Everyone ought to take his medicine."

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits during February numbered 122 and represented a value of $197,678. Total for the year, $341,461.

GLENDALE ELKS DEFEAT LEGION BY SCORE 18-2

Sunday afternoon the Elks opened their new baseball park at Glendale and Cerritos avenues by defeating the local American Legion team, 18 to 2. The peerless pitching of W. Bolin and Lenman Crandall of the victors so bewildered the doughboys that they found it very difficult to get acquainted with the first base. When they did knock the ball as far as short Doc McGillis propelled the pill so fast to "Big Boy" Peters on first, who has the habit of reaching anywhere within 10 feet of him and gathering in the ball, that it was surely discouraging to the Legion.

The Elks are planning to make considerable improvement in the park for the accommodation of the fans. Manager Vincent Salmacia promises a fast game of baseball every Sunday in the future because they are members of the Manager League, which is composed of fast semi-professional teams of Southern California.

A number of the members of the Antler herd believe that there is no necessity of having a backstop when George Hastings is catching, because it seems as though he has not learned how to miss the ball, and Rupert Malone, in the left field, shows such speed and quickness that they have named him "Deer Malone."

MAPLE STREET PAVING FINISHED

Contractor Ferry Finishes Work, Glendale Ave., to Sycamore Canyon Boulevard

Contractor Peter L. Ferry informs the Daily Press that the paving of Maple street, on which he has been working a large force for the past two months or more, is completed. The new oil macadam extends from Glendale avenue to Sycamore Canyon boulevard. The street has been recently opened from the prolongation of Belmont, east to Adams, and the position between Adams and Sycamore Canyon Blvd., was laid out about two years ago. Several very handsome bungalow have been built on the north side since then.

They expect to be here about two months and are already so enamored of Glendale that they are planning to dispose of interests in the east and locate here permanently.

Sewer Units Are Planned For Business Section of City

As quite often happens in Glendale when improvements are to be discussed, the men who are most vitally concerned with the installation of sewer units in the business district were conspicuous by their absence from the meeting held at the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening to consider factors in the problem. City Manager Watson, who called the meeting to order, stated that the majority of these men are not uninterested and that they had personally assured him of their disposition to back the city in anything it may do to meet the crying need of sewers in that congested center. Those present were Engineer Frank Olmsted, City Engineer Hill, W. W. McElroy, George B. Woodberry, J. E. Peters, Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. W. A. Slater; her son, M. J. Slater; Mr. Truitt and Mr. Watson.

Mr. Watson spoke of the good work that is being done by the advisory committee appointed by the City Trustees in the investigation (in co-operation with Engineers Olmsted & Gillellan) of methods of sewage disposal, but that any general sewer system for the city as a whole is necessarily a long way off and meanwhile something must be done to remedy conditions complained of in the business center. He introduced Mr. Olmsted, who stated that 60 per cent of the work for the proposed units in the district outlined from Wilson avenue to Colorado street and from Maryland to Orange will be permanent and such as can at once be connected up with any general sewer system installed in the future.

Mr. Hill was then called to the chair and exhibited a blue print map of the proposed district indicating the points on Orange, Harvard and Colorado where cesspools and disposing tanks would be located. He stated that the cost of the sewers, tanks, cesspools, etc., would be about $6339 per block, or a total of $38,034 if placed at a 12-foot depth for the frontage on Brand. If laid at ashallower depth, which might necessitate relaying for a final sewer system, the cost would be less or about $26,622, or $4437 per block. Reduced to lot frontage, the cost for the deep sewer was figured at $265, or for the shallow one $185.

Mr. Peters expressed strong opposition to any partial sewer system because it might retard the movement for a general sewer system and because there would be some loss from the cesspools and disposal units which would be abandoned when the time came to connect with a general system. But he was unsupported. Others present took the ground that the loss, which would amount to only about $10,000 distributed over probably five years, would be a minor consideration compared to the loss suffered were the city hurried into a premature sewer system before the problem had been carefully worked out, and that it would be better to lose $10,000 and begin right than to lose hundreds of thousands, as Los Angeles had done, by methods which are now condemned. Meanwhile the relief would be immediate. The majority present agreed that a large bond issue for a sewer system could probably not be carried in this city until a campaign of education had been conducted or until the advisory committee and engineers had become convinced of the best method. Los Angeles, Mr. Watson declared, was in no situation to handle Glendale sewage under three years, and if any arrangement should then be entered into it would mean the assumption of a heavy bonded indebtedness by Glendale with annexation to Los Angeles as a condition.

Mr. Olmsted pointed out that eastern engineers are condemning the economic waste of dumping sewage valuable for its fertilizing elements into the ocean and causing insanitary conditions along the coast, and he also indicated that the whole question of sewage disposal is in a transition state. For that reason, he thinks it would be the part of wisdom for Glendale to go slowly and build in units as demanded rather than as a whole, until a plan satisfactory to all concerned can be worked out.

The depth at which the mains for the proposed units should be laid was the main question at issue, and all present, except Mr. Peters, agreed on the 12-foot depth, which would be permanent and drain the basements.

The meeting then adjourned with the understanding that a petition would be circulated among property owners in the district affected.

"LEST WE FORGET"

N. P. Banks Post G. A. R. and the W. R. C. are up in arms. ("Up in arms" is good, since both are quasi military organizations.)

This is their casus belli: They aver that only one business house in Glendale thought enough of Lincoln's or Washington's birthday to put up a flag.

The one exception, they say, was the Hat ready-to-wear store at 108 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Hatz gave one entire show window to the display of a handsome American flag. He put up another over his entrance.

Some one has said: "We Americans need not so much to be told, as to be reminded." The G. A. R. and the W. R. C. do well to remind us. Glendale accepts the rebuke.

DOG CATCHER OUT; BETTER GET TAGS

"We'd like to get some licenses for a dog," remarked a young lady of 10 summers or thereabouts, over at the City Clerk's office yesterday.

"You see," supplemented the young lady of about the same number of summers who accompanied her, "the dog catcher starts out tomorrow."

The dog's name was Ted, and his small owner said he was big, but she didn't know what kind of a dog he was; she thought he was "a mixture."

"What kind of a man is the dog catcher?" she inquired, a little anxiously, "and how will he know Ted has the license?"

Of course City Clerk Sherer explained to her that Ted must wear his license on his collar where the dog catcher could see it, and Ted's mistress forthwith took out her pocket handkerchief, untied one corner, and produced two crisp paper dollars to pay for Ted's license.

Following her came a lad a little older, whose dog was a collie named Beauty. This purchaser of a license inquired where he could get a leather "bracelet" to put the license on one of Beauty's front paws, where the dog catcher could not fail to see it.

The dog population of Glendale has increased, as well as the human population, though the rate of increase is not so great. It is estimated that the 1921 dog licenses will reach the thousand mark—and there will be canines who will "get by" without benefit of license, besides. Two hundred licenses have been taken out this month; 40 of these were purchased yesterday.

PANAMA SENDS FIELD VOLUNTEERS

(By International News Service)

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, March 1.—Although Panama has no regular army, she is continuing to send volunteers into hte field and otherwise preparing for war against Costa Rica, as a result of the quarrel over territory in the Chiriqui district on the Pacific coast.

A report that hostilities had already opened at Golfo Duce is not officially confirmed by the Panama government.

Word is expected from the commander of the volunteers in that district shortly. Other volunteers will reach the village of Coto, in the same neighborhood.

No reply has yet been received to the communication addressed by Panama to Costa Rica on Saturday, demanding an explanation of the movement of Costa Rican troops across the border. Nor has any reply come from Washington to the request for arms and ammunition formally made to the United State government by Panama on February 24. So far there is no indication that the United States will intervene.

Both Panama and Costa Rica are members of the League of Nations, but Panama announced she would not send any notice to the League regarding the aggressive action of Costa Rica until the Costa Rican government makes a formal statement as to its intentions.

FLYING SQUADRON RIGHT ON THE JOB FAVORS REFORMS

Oliver W. Stewart, Noted Orator, Tells People How to Keep Nation Dry

An address of thrilling interest was that given by Oliver W. Stewart in the High School Auditorium, Sunday afternoon. He spoke on the present great crisis in the world's history—militaristic, industrial and alcoholic. He spoke emphatically in favor of disarmament and affirmed that only by this country taking a firm stand favoring it and insisting that other nations do so, could this be brought about. He declared that the industrial crisis was more menacing than most people realized, and the reason is the complexity of all creative work. In the time of our great grandfathers, said the speaker, wearing apparel of all kinds was made in the home, the grain was cut and threshed by hand and travel was by horseback or on foot. Now scores of hands are required to make a shoe, to raise and harvest the grain, to prepare our clothing and so on, so that combinations of labor and of capital are seen on every hand. It is only as a perfect understanding is brought about between capital and labor that the industrial crisis can be averted.

Coming to the third crisis, alcoholic, the speaker quickly punctured the statements of thousands of speakers and writers that the war caused prohibition. The war was much more keenly felt by all the European countries and by Canada, but none of them adopted prohibition in consequence. It was not the war but business and labor that caused it all. When the wheat was threshed with a flail, a tipsy man was not a menace, as he is at the feed board of a thresher. When travel was by stage coach, a drunken driver could not cause much damage, but now a tipsy engineer may cause the loss of scores of lives and millions in property damage; and so on.

Don't delude yourself, said the speaker, with the idea that the 18th amendment cannot be repealed. Congress could pass a repealing amendment next week and the state legislatures could ratify it in a short time—but, it is our business to see that big business and labor does not countenance such folly, as they surely will never do if not led away by false conclusions. For this reason the Flying Squadron of which Mr. Stewart is the head, is always on the alert to keep the people educated to the idea that business can never again tolerate the liquor evil with its constant menace to the effectiveness and safety of labor.

Mr. Stewart paid an affecting tribute to J. Frank Hanly, ex-Governor of Indiana and up to the day of his tragic death last August, the dynamic force that animated the Flying Squadron of which he was the head. For 27 years he and Hanly worked together, speaking side by side in every state capitol in the nation and in hundreds of other cities.

The address was listened to approvingly and with deepest interest by the audience.

CHAMP CLARK AT POINT OF DEATH

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Champ Clark, former speaker of the house and veteran Democratic leader, is very low today, it was stated at his hotel here.

"The speaker had a very bad night," it was stated, "and his condition this morning is very low."

The former speaker suffered a sinking spell yesterday afternoon and although for a time it appeared he was rallying, his condition grew gradually worse during the night. Colleagues of the veteran Missourian fear the end may come at any time.

Shortly after 9 o'clock it was announced that the ex-speaker had been in a comatose state for several hours.

Little hope for the recovery of Champ Clark, veteran Democratic leader, who is seriously ill here, was held today by his physician, Dr. Jesse Shoup, after an examination this morning.

"Mr. Clark may live the day out and he may live through tomorrow," Dr. Shoup said. "Mr. Clark, although in a comatose condition, has recovered consciousness for brief intervals," the physician stated.

CHANGE IN PLACE OF PICTURE SHOW

The building at 1502 San Fernando road, occupied below by Owens Grocery Store and above by the Yeoman Lodge, has suffered damage and is thought to be settling. Last week the large window in the front of the store fell out and an investigation is being made by the City Building Department. Fearing that it is unsafe, the use of Yeoman Hall has been forbidden. For this reason the moving picture benefit show for Cerritos School which was to have been held in that hall Thursday evening at 7:30, has been transferred to the K. of P. Hall at the corner of Brand and Park avenue.

"WOMAN IN BLACK" NOT YET LOCATED

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Located after a search of the city by Detective Riehl, "the woman in black," sought on the theory that she could give valuable evidence concerning the murder of Leo Greenbaum, Los Angeles pawnbroker, last week at Etiwanda, San Bernardino county, established to the satisfaction of the detective that she had no knowledge of the murder.

According to Riehl, the woman was questioned at the request of San Bernadino county officials and was able to show that she had arrived in San Francisco last Tuesday. Detective Riehl stated that the hotel register showed this statement to be correct. She denied any knowledge of the Greenbaum killing or any of the events leading up to it, Riehl stated.

Delighted with luncheon served by Domestic Science Girls of Glendale High

Members of the directorate of the Chamber of Comerce as electeed last Friday night responded to the call of Campaign Manager Stevenson to attend a mid-day luncheon in the pretty bungalow of the Domestic Science Department of the High School Monday and enjoy a luncheon prepared by students of the department under the direction of Miss Ellen Hanson, the department head. So fine was the service, so delicious was the meal of Swiss steak with stuffed potatoes, carrots and peas a la Pennsylvania, a lettuce salad, hot rolls and coffee and a dainty dessert, that the general cry went up from the pleased guests: "Can we not arrange to have a luncheon here weekly?" and Dan Campbell, as member of the High School Board of Trustees, was delegated to negotiate with Miss Hanson. Later when she visited the room a vote of appreciation was unanimously caried and she agreed to take the request under consideration as it would be good practice for the advanced students of the department.

The first business transacted was the election of Mr. Cooper to act as temporary chairman. Then Manager Stevenson reported an active membership of 536 which should mean an income annually of $13,400, and a reserve membership of 176, representing an income of $1180, or a total of $14,580. Of this amount $7,145 has been collected. He congratulated the members of the directorate on the success of the campaign but reminded them it is but the foundation and that the success or failure of the Chamber during the year to come will rest largely with them. "You have undertaken a big job," said he, "and to win out you must be constant in effort, regular in attendance at the weekly meetings, and unflagging in enthusiasm." He stated that he and his brother expect to be in Southern California for several months and that they will keep their eyes on Glendale and be ready to help whenever they can be of service.

Applause followed this speech and hurrahs for "Steve," then the meeting settled down to dispatch the business in hand as rapidly as possible. Mr. Kitterman tendered his resignation on the ground that it would be difficult for both himself and Mr. Cooper to be absent from the bank at the same time, and the resignation was reluctantly accepted. Stephen Packer as the nominee who had tied with Mr. Ferry for place, was then elected to succeed Mr. Kitterman. The names of J. A. Newton, H. G. McBain and Herman Nelson, of the east side of the city, E. P. Hayward, W. E. Hewitt and Owen Emery of the northern section were then placed in nomination for the two places on the directorate to be filled by appointment. Ballots were cast and Messrs. Newton and Emery were declared elected.

L. T. Rowley was appointed to accept on behalf of the Board an invitation to atend a meeting of Chamber of Commerce Secretaries at Van Nuys, March 5. The chairman was instructed to apoint a committee of three to attend a meeting of the Grand View Improvement Association at the residence of Mr. Applegate the evening of March 1.

After some discusion the Board voted to meet weekly for a noon luncheon on Wednesdays and a committee was appointed to arrange for the forum luncheons to be attended by the full membership of the Chamber.

A primary ballot was then taken to secure nominees for the presidency, Messrs Cooper and Smith running ahead. The final ballot placed Mr. Cooper in the chair, though he endeavored to resign in Mr. Smith's favor. Subsequent ballots elected Mr. Smith and Mr. Hollister first and second vice-presidents respectively. With the understanding that the treasurer would not necessarily be a member of the directorate, ballots were distributed and Mr. Kitterman was elected to the office.

Communications from a few of the six applicants for the secretaryship of whom three are local men, were then read, but no action was taken, the directors adjourning to meet again tonight at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters and complete their organization.

The following members constitute the directorate as now organized: C. C. Cooper, president; Jesse Smith, first vice-president; V. M. Hollister, second vice-president; George H. Bentley, R. D. White, J. G. Huntley, C. D. Lusby, Daniel Campbell, Roy Kent, David Gregg, Peter Ferry, S. C. Packer, J. A. Newton, and Owen Emery. After the two men last named and Mr. Packer had been elected, they were sumoned by telephone, but Mr. Packer could not be reached. Messrs. Newton and Emery responded and participated in the election of officers and other matters considered.

WELL CONNECTED

"The girl in the telephone exchange seems to be too high flown for her position," said McFingle.

"No wonder!" replied McGangle. "She is connected with some of the best families in town."

"Indeed? How?"

"By wire."—Houston Post.

A TIMELY HINT

A restaurant in Butler, Mo., displays this sign:

"Dont divorce your wife because she can't cook.

"Eat here and keep her for a pet."—Life.

BUT HE KEPT HIS HEAD

Jepson—He's an exceptional young man.

Thompson—How's that?

"He gave his heart and hand to a head."—Answers, London.

Hats, both large and small, developed in crepe de chine and embroidered in self-colored floss, wool or chenille, are spoken of as early spring models.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Cheese croquettes make an excellent luncheon dish.

Straw hats may be cleaned with dampened cornmeal.

Seeded raisins may take the place of sugar in cornbread.

The queen of all crackers to serve with salad is the cheese straw.

Bacon will be crisp if the fat is poured off while it is cooking.

Buy a small nail brush to use for scrubbing the outside of fancy glassware.

The colder pastry is kept during the process of preparation the better it will be.

Spreading a little flour on the top of a cake will sometimes prevent the icing from running.

Starch for dark calicos should be made in the usual way, then add to it one pint of clear coffee.

Cooked apples are a wholesome and satisfying dessert and especially are good for young children.

When bills are loose in the inside section of a pocketbook fasten them to the mounting with a paper clip.

Thoroughly wetting the hair occasionally with a solution of salt and water will keep it from falling out.

Bananas crushed with a fork, liberally sprinkled with sugar and served with cream make a nice breakfast dish for children.

A filling of stewed apricots, figs, dates or apple sauce with a sprinkling of cinnamon or nutmeg on the apple may be used for winter shortcake.

To renew velocity of carpet sweepers, wrap little wooden wheels with tire tape until they fit tight against rubber wheels on each side of them.

When making berry pies, cut the lower crust half an inch larger than the top and fold over like a hem. You will find that the juice never leaks out.

Put a little sugar in a paper sack and shake a few doughnuts at a time in it. In thsi way they are all powdered evenly and no sugar is wasted.

Fifty thousand automobile workers were thrown out of employment when one of the largest plants in Detroit closed down for an indefinite period.

After being in the employ of hte 53 years, George W. Gaskill of Yardville, N. J., has retired on the honor roll.

Stephen Packer and Mr. Ferry had the same number of votes and the two names were put in the hat, and the winner was Mr. Ferry.

AN EVENING WITH JAMES W. FOLEY

The many lovers of the homely verse of James W. Foley, humorist of the best type and poet of the people, are delighted to know they will have opportunity to hear him in Glendale, March 18, in Masonic Hall. He is coming under the auspices of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and the tickets have been prcied at 50 cents for adults and 28 cents for children of school age. The charming personality oif the poet, and his effective method of reading his own work, make an evening with Mr. Foley a delight none should miss.

CONSOLING

"Brakeman, are you positive this train will stop at Gary?"

Fully a dozen times the fussy old lady had asked the question and the man began to lose patience.

"Now, look here, madam," he replied finally, "this is an express to Gary, and if we don't stop there then you'll be in the biggest smashup you ever heard of."—Houston Post.

BAFFLING

Dr. White—"I'm up against it. I've a patient suffering from aches and pains, and I don't know what is causing the trouble."

Dr. Black—"Had his teeth examined?"

Dr. White—"That's the point. I had all his teeth taken out two years ago, but what are you to do when a man has quite run out of teeth?"—London Mail.

WHERE LOVE FAILED

"They married for love."

"Yes."

"And now she's suing hif for divorce."

"Yes. Discovered that she had to have something to eat as well."—Detroit Free Press.

LIGHT OPERA AT GLENDALE HIGH

This year officers of the student body of Glendale High voted to present in place of the annual vaudeville they have been giving for several years, three performances of a light opera, which will be given March 9, as a matinee at 3:30 p. m., and on the evenings of the 10th and 11th at 8:15, in the School auditorium. The subject of the performances will be the raising of the $1,400 student body budget.

The good old, tuneful "Chimes of Normandy" has been selected and will given by the boys' and girls' glee clubs which number about 60 students, all of whom are now working with great enthusiasm with the prospect of being able to give a very finished performance. The plot affords plenty of comedy, the music is bright and catchy, the costuming picturesque. It will be given under the combined direction of the Music and Dramatic Departments, with the Sewing Department lending aid on the costumes. Scenic and lighting effects will be worked out by Albert Hewitt and C. S. Farrow. The full cast has not been selected.

ELEPHANTS NURSE BABIES

In Siam some of the women intrust their children to the care of elephant nurses, and it is said the trust is never betrayed. The babies play about the huge feet of the elephants, who are careful never to hurt their little charges.—Chicago Tribune.

IN THE VERY STRICTEST CONFIDENCE

In grateful recognition of the support it has received from the men and women of Glendale and with the purpose of making its activities more serviceable to the common welfare, the PRESS begins a daily with this issue. As such, it invites a continuance of the confidence and good-will which have so generously sustained it as a weekly and enabled it to become, what it hopes as a daily in larger measure to remain, an institution of service.

During the period the PRESS has been under its present management, it has made wonderful progress, for the community has been quick in its recognition of the spirit in which this publication has been conducted. The PRESS has stood helpfully for whatever might build up Glendale. It has served no interest other than the public interest. Within the restricted compass of a weekly's power and strength it has fought for the common welfare of the people of this city. There never has been a question as to the position of the PRESS on any matter affecting the well-being of this community.

The PRESS has had its reward—the only reward worth while to an honest newspaper—it has won the confidence, goodwill and support of the great body of the people whom alone it has served. It was perfectly natural that they should wish to see its powers for service expanded and its capacity for usefulness increased. It is in response to the common appeal and in compliance with their generally expressed desire that the PRESS is now enlarged from a weekly into a daily publication that after all is THEIR newspaper rather than our own. We who are charged with its management hold ourselves answerable chiefly as the people's trustees.

Therefore it is that the PRESS will be nonpartisan and nonsectarian. Nonpartisan does not mean nonpolitical, for the processes of government vitally concern us all, but the PRESS will serve no party, no politician. Its advertising columns are at their disposal, not the editorial or news columns.

Nonsectarian does not imply lack of religious conviction. The churches are the bulwarks of morality in civilization and the pillars of social progress. As a daily, the PRESS will pursue the policy that has characterized it as a weekly. It will devote special attention to the work of the churches, schools, societies and clubs that have made Glendale notable as a city of clean living and high thinking. Entertainments given for pay should pay for the publicity they receive, and must, so far as the PRESS is concerned, but to all the varied and helpful activities of the organizations we have noted, the PRESS extends the hospitality of its columns.

The PRESS will gladly welcome signed communications on matters of public interest. For anonymous letters or communications of the Pro Bono Publico or Vox Populi variety, a capacious wastebasket has been provided.

However, the PRESS itself day by day, best will attest what the PRESS is to be. Performance is ever better than promise. For a time, until additional equipment already ordered can be installed, the most that can be done will fall far short of what the PRESS plans to do. We're not beginning with excuses—merely explaining, for this day the PRESS enters upon a close partnership with the public which it hopes will be long standing.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

With the revivifying of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, consequent upon the recently completed enthusiastic drive for an enlarged membership, comes a new era for Glendale.

The membership of the Chamber is composed of public-spirited men, willing and eager to work disinterestedly for the good of Glendale. With such a large and harmonious body pulling together for the advancement and development of the city, there is no limit to what may be accomplished. Glendale's natural advantages, its intelligent citizenship, the progress already made toward making this an ideal home city, are valuable assets to the Chamber of Commerce in the proposed plan for a greater development of Glendale. Every incentive for enthusiastic boosting is here, and without a doubt the program for a greater, better Glendale will be worked out with vim and vigor.

The twelve directors of the Chamber elected last Thursday comprise C. C. Cooper, George H. Bentley, Jesse E. Smith, V. M. Hollister, R. D. White, J. G. Huntley, C. D. Lusby, Dan Campbell, Roy L. Kent, David L. Gregg, and Peter L. Ferry. This board is one that will direct the affairs of the Chamber wisely and without self-interest, and Glendale is to be congratulated on its selection.

But the Chamber of Commerce, and Glendale at large as well, must not leave all the work for the board of directors. This body must have the support of every member of the Chamber and the assistance of every loyal citizen of Glendale if it is to accomplish the great work for Glendale which it has undertaken so enthusiastically. "This means you," who read these lines, whoever you may be. Your interest, your enthusiasm, your boosting, your kindly thought, your constructive criticism, your willing, enthusiastic work, if you are called upon to serve, are absolutely essential to the development of your city and to the good work of your Chamber of Commerce.

With this live interest in the Chamber of Commerce, with this hearty supoprt of its efficient board of directors, Glendale can have anything she wants; without this loyal and wholehearted cooperation even this capable board at its best will be hampered. A house divided against itself cannot stand.

But Glendale, of course, is not, and will never be, a house divided against itself. Her citizens will stand loyally by the Chamber of Commerce, and will hold up the hands of its board of directors.

BRAND BOULEVARD IMPROVEMENT

To improve Brand boulevard was the purpose of a committee meeting held last Saturday evening at the home of Mattison B. Jones, chairman. Mr. Jones read a letter from Mr. Titcomb of the Pacific Electric, in which was stated: "that at some future time, when it was expedient, some changes might be made in the 'hump' on Brand." The letter did not indicate early action on the part of the railroad authorities. Mr. Jones, president of the Brand boulevard improvement association, stated that he would at an early date call a meeting and lay the work of the committee before it, with suggestions for several other important city improvements. Clinton Booth was instructed to present the matter to the City Trustees and the Chamber of Commerce and request their aid.

PERMANENT STREET WORK POSTPONED

Residents of West Elk and Oak Want Water Laid in Advance of Final Payment

Very sensibly some of the Glendale property owners who have been clamoring for street improvement, notably on Oak and West Elk have decided to postpone the laying of permanent roadways until four-inch water mains, which have been promised, replace the present two-inch mains. Figures were submitted by City Manager Watson showing the cost of grading and oiling the roadway and giving it a top dressing of screenings, with statement that the owners of frontage were willing to bear a portion of the expense. Mr. Watson was instructed to confer with such residents and ascertain exactly what they were prepared to do, members expresing a desire to co-operate in the temporary improvement if the city could do so consistently.

Now that a solution of the sewer problem is up for serious discussion it is thought probable that more street improvement will be delayed that sewer pipes may be laid beforehand and thus avoid disturbing a perfectly good pavement.

LUNCHEON FOR SAN FRANCISCO GUEST

Mrs. Frank Dow was hostess at a luncheon given a few days since at her home on East Lexington Drive at which Mrs. Francis of San Francisco, a special friend of Mrs. Sallie Campbell Braden, was guest of honor. Ragged Robbin roses and poinsettias were effectively used in decoration and following the luncheon the ladies spent a pleasant social afternon, the guests being: Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Braden, Mrs. F. S. Balthis, Mrs. J. G. Huntley, Mrs. Seymour Smith, Mrs. Duthie from Iowa, Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, Miss Lily Fielding, and Mrs. J. P. Fitzgerald of Los Angeles.

The rubber tree has many enemies in the form of beetles, which constantly attack it by boring holes in its bark.

LIBRARY BENEFIT A GREAT SUCCESS

Entertainments To Provide Moving Picture Machine For Cerritos School

So great a success was the card party given at the Branch Library Building Thursday evening as a benefit for the fund to provide a moving picture machine for Cerritos School that guests petitioned for another party of the same sort and it has been promised for March 24, to be given in the same place. The nucleus of the fund was the gift of the residue left in the treasury of the former Tropico Chamber of Commerce. O motion picture show at Yeomen Hall added to the fund, and that form of entertainment is also to be repeated in a benefit show at Yeomen Hall on San Fernando Roard Thursday evening, March 3. At that time Miss Turner, an English moving picture actress who is a favorite abroad, will be present and give some vaudeville numbers and perhaps a film will be shown in which she is featured. She will be the guest of J. O'Neill Farell of Gardena avenue, who is connected with the moving picture industry and who is related to Miss Turner.

As stated, the card party was largely attended. Mrs. E. V. Bacon headed the general committee of arrangements and was ably assisted by Miss Cora Hickman who directed the play, Mrs. A. J. Becker and Mrs. Rice being responsible for the decoration of the hall which they made very pretty with flowers and rugs. Miss Hattie Baggs and Mrs. Lawrence won first and second ladies' prizes, Mr. Farber and Mr. John Well capturing the first and second tropies provided for gentlemen.

HER NEXT STEP

"Do you know, Miss Biggal," said young Saphead at a coast resort, "I've got a gweat mind to gwighten you by wocking the boat?"

"A young man like you tried that with me once and the boat upset," replied Miss Biggal, an athletic young woman.

"Did it, weally? What did you do?"

"I swam ashore and notified the coroner."—Houston Post.

MR. SHOUP HAS CHANGE OF MIND

Colorado's Chief Executive Nearly Lost Check for $22,500.

(By International News Service)

DENVER, March 1—Joseph E. Moorhead, the genial secretary to Governor O. H. Shoup, is planning on taking a course in "character reading," to enable him to distinguish "important" visitors from those who may fiddle away the time of the chief executive at his offices in the State Capitol.

The Governor, who has many business interests in the State, has already lost several hundred dollars and narrowly escaped being minus a check for $22,50 because visitors at the executive office were forced to toast their shins in the "waiting room" while State Senators and Representatives were conferring with the Governor on legislative matter.s

While Governor Shoup was taking a stroll downtown recently two men approached him. One he immediately recognized.

"Good morning, Governor," greeted the friend.

"Good morning," replied the Governor; a bit chilly, isnt it?"

"Yes," agreed the friend, "and that's what this man here thinks about your office up on the hill, too. He has called at the executive office several times and on each occasion he has been nuable to see you, although he waited long and patiently. And he wants to give you some money, too."

The Governor then recognized the other man as a representative of a business concern in which he was interested and which had an important deal under way.

Repairing to an office the Governor was handed a check for $22,500, wanted to give him for some days, but he had tired of waiting around the executive offices.

"That's isn't the only time, either," Governor Shoup said, in recounting the incident. "I lost $540 because a man couldn't get to see me some time ago, and now the latchspring will be on the outside at the Capitol."

ALSATIAN FORECAST WORLD WAR IN 1903

(By International News Service)

PARIS, March 1—How an Alsatian, faithful to France, predicted the war between Germany and France in 1903 is revealed in a clause of his will just made public.

After the war of 1870, in which he participated as a soldier of France, M. Metzger left Strassbourg and came to live at Saint Germain, near Paris. He died there in 1903 and in his will he left all his property to the town of Saint Germain on condition that they fulfill one wish he expressed in his will. This was to the effect that a new war between the two neighboring countries would shortly take place and that he wanted to recompense the valor of France's poilus whom he felt "sure would liberate his native homeland." Accordingly he requested the town of Saint Germain to pick out hte five most valorous soldiers of France and grant them an income of 800 francs per year, for which he had made provision in his will.

But the task of finding these five soldiers is not an easy one and the municipality of Saint Germain firstly decided to consult the Minister of War and ask him to pick out five soldiers (they were to be privates or corporals) who had received all medals, including the Legion of Honor, during the war for conspicuous bravery. The answer came back and with it the names of some 2,000 soldiers rightfully entitled to M. Metzger's pension. When the five are chosen President Millerand will hand them the 800 francs is the first yearly pension and give them the necessary documents that they might collect a like amount every year.

WORKING WITH RUSSIAN ARMIES

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, March 1—Communistic evangelists working with the Soviet Russian armies on all the Russian military fronts have succeeded in converting about one and a nalf million inhabitants of territory occupied by the red troops to communism within the last four months, according to "Bote Fahne," the organ of Berlin bolshevists.

The most effective work has been complished on the Caucasian front, where more than 100 completely equipped propaganda teams are holding their "educational" meetings for the benefit of farmers. Newspapers, pamphlets, lectures, propaganda movies and the performance of radical plays induce the peasants to hit the "sawdust trail" to bolshevism.

LEGION HAS 10,000 POSTS

The American Legion entered 1921 with virtually ten thousand posts, according to the estimates based on the latest figures, says the Stars and Stripes. During the week ending December 10, fifteen new posts were 9930. Arkansas led with three posts. The Women's Auxiliary in the same period obtained twenty-seven new units, enlarging its list to 1586. Four new units, gained by the New York department, placed that department in the lead for the week. Foreign posts added recently are at Chuquicamata, Chile, and Guatemala City, Guatemala.

PEST HOUSE IS GREAT NEED NOW

United Demand On Supervisors for County Pest House Independent of L. A.

Great good seems likely to result from the courageous infraction of law which Dr. J. C. Eckles dared a few weeks ago when he sent a smallpox patient under escort of the city police to the County Hospital and secured his commitment to the pest house used by the county but which in reality belongs to Los Angeles and to the county only by courtesy. The doctor was confronted by a condition, not a theory, which demanded action and after consulting all the health authorities on the official list each of whom referred him to some other, he took the course mentioned above in handling the case of a tourist passing through Glendale who was found to be suffering from smallpox. The rest of the story is doubtless familiar to most readers—the indignation of L. A. health officials over the violation of state law in transporting a smallpox patient without a permit through Los Angeles to the County Hospital, the arrest of Dr. Eckles and his release on bond subject to the hearing of the case before Judge Harry Miller, and the trial at which Dr. Eckles was found guilty of a technical violation of the law and a fine of $25 and term of imprisonment were imposed and immediatefy suspended, the L. A. officials declaring they had no desire to persecute but merely to vindicate their rights. Other municipalities who have had the same experience, now that the doctor has been made the goat in a test case, are uniting to petition the County Supervisors to provide a pest house to which patients can be sent.

In discussing the matter Dr. Eckles stated that for some unknown reason but possibly because Los Angeles wished to have still another lever to force annexation, Dr. Powers, health commissioners of that city, has heretofore opposed the establishment of a County pest house. Now, however, he has recommended that the supervisors provide one, and the city trustees of Alhambra and Glendale are backing the recommendation.

"For some time," said the doctor, "the big question has been 'Why doesn't the County Hospital take care of such cases?' It was given $600,000 to provide contagious wards and it provided for everything except smallpox. Los Angeles insists she controls the County Hospital because it is within her territory, but the County Hospital is supported by the whole county and should serve the whole county, particularly in the handling of contagious diseases diseases which are always a serious problem to a small community.

"GENE RAGADORE" WEEKLY DANCES

Members of the organization are: Gene James, piano; Lyn Keyes, saxophone; Ping Spalding, saxophone; Lacy Swaine, banjo; Tom Middlecoff, violin; Tom Flourney, drums. Glendale has many lovers of the dance who will welcome this opportunity to enjoy a favorite amusement.

A horse will live twenty-five days without solid food, merely drinking water.

RUSSIA DECLINES IN POPULATION

(By International News Service)

RIGA, March 1.— Riga, the former metropolis of the Russian Baltic provinces, and now the capital of the newly-formed Latvian Republic, has seen its population dwindle as a result of the great war from 600,000 to 275,000. This and other interesting observations on the decline of a city which industrially ranked next in importance after Moscow and Lodz are contained in a report from the American Red Cross Relief Expedition in the Baltic States, which has its headquarters in Riga.

"Next to the shrinking population the most striking tning about Riga," says the report, "is the preponderance of women over men. Reliable estimates place the percentage of women in Riga at 70. The explanation is that most of the men are still in the army, or in Russian and Germany refugees in the former country and prisoners of war in the latter, awaiting repatriation."

SUIT FILED IN OHIO FOR MINE CAVE-IN

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, March 1—What is believed to be the first suit filed in the Eastern Ohio coal mining field as a result of property caving in, due to mining operations, is that of Frank Sopanio, of Shadyside, who has brought suit against the Ohio Collieries Company. He alleges the Company mined coal under his place without legal right and says the coal was worth $1,200.

The petition also charges that by reason of the mining operations, the surface caved in. Cave-ins are said to be common in some of the Eastern mining fields, but they rarely result in this locality, due to the depth of the coal beneath the surface in most places.

MISS LUSBY AS G. WASHINGTON

Applies Her Hatchet to Cherry Tree With Better Reward Than George Had

Intimations of the approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Lusby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby of North Jackson street, to Harold Latter, formerly of this city but now a resident of Oakland, Cal., were confirmed at an afternoon party given last week for the popular young woman by her cousin, Miss Waunita Emery, at the Emery residence, 229 North Kenwood street. Following an afternoon of progressive bunko a delicious two-course luncheon was served, at which a pink and white color scheme was carried out in floral shaped bonbon baskets and in other table appointments. Place cards bore the semblance of a diamond ring centered with a little Cupid offering a golden envelope, which was found to contain a slip announcing the wedding date, March 31.

Following the luncheon the honoree was escorted by the expectant guests to the reception parlor, where the big event of the afternoon took place. Presently Miss Josephine Emery, sister of the hostess, quaintly costumed in a Colonial gown, appeared pushing a tea wagon centered with what seemed to be a cherry tree in bloom rising from a green carpet suggestive of grass, though it proved to be nothing more substantial than paper. In her hand Miss Josephine carried a tiny hatchet, tempting her cousin to act the role of George Washington, Jr., by reciting this verse:

Each year we meet to celebrate
The birth of a man both good and great,
George Washington, when a boy,
Was given a hatchet as a toy.
Though good and great, his curiosity
Led him to cut down a cherry tree.
You were born in the same month of the year,
And of curiosity you have your share.
The tree now before you stands.
The hatchet you have in your hand.
We bid you strike the fatal blow
To satisfy your curiosity of what is below.

Miss Lusby dutifully followed instructions and discovered treasures at the root of the cherry tree of wondrous variety and value, which will beautify the home to which she is going in Oakland.

Miss Emery was assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. U. Emery, and her sister, Miss Olive Bell Emery, in the entertainment of her guests, who were: Mesdames C. D. Lusby, C. R. Lusby, R. W. Lusby, of San Fernando; Mabel Parsons, A. L. Bryant, R. A. Salisbury, Harold Salisbury, Frank Weller, Wilbur Lee, G. F. Latter, of Oakland; Misses Maud Salisbury, Dorothy Hamilton, Lavera Kitterman, Beatrice Lanning, Muriel Turner, Doris Ingledue, Leone Shattuck, Martha Ray, Eunice Peart, Marian Addison, Doris Latter, Mrs. Lena May Christy, Mrs. Leone Jellison, Mrs. Merbergen, Miss Helen Reynolds and the guest of honor.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM P. S. M'NUTT

The Press is in receipt of a pleasant word of greeting and congratulation on the establishment of a daily from P. S. McNutt, of Sycamore Canyon. Mr. McNutt writes: "I have had more or less to do with newspapers and have done some writing for them. I helped to start one fellow in the business. He is Edwin T. Meredith, now Secretary of Agriculture in President Wilson's cabinet. Twenty years ago he was going to law school to me, at which time he bought out a small, defunct farm paper in Des Moines, Iowa. It wasn't making expenses. He was only 22 years old at the time. Now he owns and runs 'Successful Farming,' a monthly, which has 800,000 subscribers and which ran $2,000,000 of advertising last year. He has made a fortune out of this monthly and there were two very strong farm papers published in Des Moines at the time. The good weekly you are getting out will grow fast."

PROPOSED INTER-CITY BUS LINE

A. P. Offutt who made application to the Board of City Trustees at its last meeting for a permit to operate a bus line in Glendale over a fixed route, received encouragement from members individually who expressed a desire to see such a line but the matter was referred both to the City Attorney and the City Manager for investigation. The City Attorney expressed the opinion that the case would not come under the jitney ordinance because of the prescribed route. Instead he thought it would call for a franchise. In a general way the proposed route was described as running between the new municipal park and Thornycroft Hospital. City Manager Watson was instructed to confer with Mr. Offutt and assist him to draw up a formal application giving full details as to route, the kind of a bus and number of passengers it would carry.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM OF POST AND CORPS

A big affair was the dinner and patriotic program attended by members of the N. P. Banks Post and Corps at G. A. R. Hall last Friday, covers being laid for 150 guests. Afternoon exercises were in charge of Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, Patriotic Instructor of the Corps, and opened with the singing of a verse of "America" in which all joined. Mrs. Winona Crawford read a beautiful poem, "Apostrophe to Lincoln" by Samuel Parker, a deceased member of the Post, and Mr. English, an ex-service men who participated in the late war read a resume of a sermon by Dr. Helms of Los Angeles seting forth evidences of the hand of God directing the armies and giving victory to the allies. Past Commander Clark paid tribute to Washington, Lincoln, and McKinley and the service they rendered their country. Mrs. Moore sang "America the Beautiful" to a piano accompaniment played by Mrs. Crawford, and the meeting closed with the singing of "Star Spangled Banner".

NEW LOCATION TO BE DISCUSSED

P. T. A. Committee to Discuss Establishment of Another Intermediate

A meeting of representatives of Intermediate, Acacia and Cerritos P. T. As. will be held Wednesday afternoon to discuss the location of a new Intermediate School at some point midway between Cerritos and the present Intermediate on Wilson avenue with a view to relieving the congestion at both those schools. At Cerritos the sewing room has been commandeered as a class room, and in spite of additions to the Intermediate, class membership there is above the maximum number prescribed by State authorities, and extra classes are roomless. The need for another school which would be limited to seventh and eighth grades has been discussed tentatively. The conclusions reached by the representatives of the P. T. As. memtioned at this conference will probably be presented at the general school meeting which electors of the district have been asked to attend at the Intermediate Thursday evening at 8 p. m. It is a matter considered by many the most important issue now facing the citizens of Glendale.

Mrs. Annie Curtis, principal of Cerritos Avenue School, who suffered a nervous break-down a few days ago and who is in the Good Samaritan Hospital, is said to be making excellent progress toward recovery, but will not be able to resume her school work for ten days. Miss Bigelow is acting principal and eight grade supervisor in the absence of Mrs. Curtis.

MUSIC DEALERS OPEN NEW STORE

The lease of the Waidelich Electric Shop, at 126 South Brand boulevard, has been sold to the Glendale Music Company at 109 North Brand boulevard. The stock of the East Broadway store is being moved to the new location on South Brand.

Mr. and Mrs. Waidelich are giving up the electrical shop because of a decided change in their plans. Mr. Waidelich holds an important and responsible position in the government service, in the Department of Vocational Training, of disabled soldiers of the late war. It was his intention to reign from this position to take charge of the electrical shop here. Certain prospective changes in the government's educational work, which mean advancement for Mr. Waidelich, have influenced his decision to remain in the service, and as the work is too heavy for Mrs. Waidelich to carry on alone, they decided to give up the store.

The many friends Mr. and Mrs. Waidelich have have already made in their short time they have lived here will be glad to learn that they will not move away from Glendale. They like their home which they recently purchased at 634 North Kenwood street, they like Glendale, they like Glendale people, and they consider this the right environment in which to rear their little children.

The company will conduct an up-to-date music store at the new location on South Brand boulevard. It will embody some special features, which will be described in these columns in a day or so.

A. E. Dodds, the jeweler, of 104 East Broadway, will move his business to the store to be vacated by the Glendale Music Company.

MRS. JAACKS GIVES LUNCHEON FOR SISTER

An exceptionally pretty affair was the twelve o'clock luncheon given Friday by Mrs. H. C. Jaacks at her home at 204 South Glendale avenue, for her sister, Mrs. Hale of Seattle. French marigolds and everlasting flowers were employed in decoration. Covers were laid for Mrs. Smith of Los Angeles, Mrs. Forrest of Pasadena, Mrs. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dow and Mr. and Mrs. Jaacks.

ELK NOMINATIONS FOR OFFICERS CLOSE

Monday night nominations which have been coming in all through the month of February for officers of Glendale Elks' Lodge, closed. The election when members will vote on nominees presented will take place next Monday evening. The meeting last night was a routine affair with balloting on applicants for membership.

SEVENTH-DAY FOLK ENJOY CONCERT

An event of great interest was the concert given by the choirs of the Glendale Seventh Day Adventists and the Long Beach Seventh Day Adventists on Sunday evening last, in the Glendale church at California and Isabel streets, before an audience that taxed the capacity of the church.

Palms, ferns and flowers decorated the auditorium for the occasion and a large flag was draped over the rostrum, where the choir of 75 voices was seated.

Every number was given with a perfection of technique, a keen appreciation of musical values and a fine balance of the various parts, that speak well for the work of both the Glendale and Long Beach choirs, as well as their leaders, C. H. Jones of Glendale and Mrs. Edna Lawrence of Long Beach.

The first part of the program comprised "A Spring Song" (Pinsuti), by the combined chour; duets from the cantata, "David," (a) David, C. H. Jones; Jonathan, E. M. McDonald; (b) Saul, C. H. Jones; Jonathan, E. M. MacDonald; ladies' octette, (a) "In Heavenly Love Abiding (Halmer), (b) "Lullaby" (Jamison), Mesdames June Mills, S. Elma Just, Elizabeth Dale, Hattie Levy, Maurice Anderson, Effie Walker, Edna Lawrence and Miss Bessie Levy; solo, Retta King Nelson of Glendale, (a) "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me?" from Psalm 13 (Speaks), (b) "America For Me" (Van Dyke).

Between the first and second parts of the program short speeches were made by Elders R. A. Ford and J. H. Papp. Elder Ford spoke on church music and the various instruments used at different periods of the world's history in divine praise and worship. Elder Papp explained the Glendale choir's work toward buying a new piano for the church and how they money for its purchase. As a result of this talk the collection amounted to about $130 for the piano fund.

The second part, the main event of the evening, was the cantata, "George Washington's Forefathers In 1620" (Hosmer). This was given by the combined chorus, with solo, duet and other part features, descriptive of the Pilgrims' farewell to their old home, incidents of their long voyage across the stormy sea, the reading of the pact drawn up for the new commonwealth, their landing and their thanksgiving for the close of the journey.

The cantata was much enjoyed, the singing of Mrs. Nelson being especially noteworthy. Mrs. C. E. Swartsfager was the accompanist.

The benediction at the close of the enjoyable evening was pronounced by Elder R. W. Munson, of Glendale.

The ordinary man can lift with both hands 236 pounds, and can support on his shoulders 330 pounds.

MRS. M. J. BRENNAN INJURES KNEE-CAP

A few days ago Mrs. M. J. Brennan of 519 North Central had the misfortne while crossing her front yard, to trip and fall, injuring her knee so badly that an X-ray examination was made without delay which revealed that the knee-cap had been fractured. She was ordered to bed wth the prospect of having to remain there for a month or six weeks.

Her friends will be interested to know she has received from her sister, Mrs. C. J. McNeill of Chicago the announcement of the birth of a daughter. Mrs. McNeill was her guest last winter and was much entertained, as she made many friends.

HANDLING TRAFFIC THERE AND HERE

C. E. Neale, who spent a few days in San Francisco last week in attendance on the annual convention of the Hardware Dealers' Association, was greatly impressed by the manner in which the traffic problem is handled on the streets of the Bay City. He says there are no narrow lanes such as feature Los Angeles crossings, but, instead, the auto traffic is urged forward and kept moving to avoid congestion. The manner in which they treat the stranger unacquainted with some of their traffic rules also appealed to Mr. Neale. Instead of calling down the well-intentioned but offending visitor, he is smilingly addressed, joshed on his ignorance and allowed to proceed after explanations have been made. The effort to make Frisco popular with auto owners is certainly succeeding, Mr. Neale declares.

CHURCH FEATURES

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

Sunday Services

Large audiences were present at both morning and evening services at the Central Christian Church on Sunday. Dr. C. F. Cheverton, dean of the California School of Christianity, which is being built adjacent to the Southern Branch of the University of California, spoke in the forenoon on the "Call for Leadership." His appeal for the dedication and preparation of young life for special work in the church met with hearty response. The church is stressing the call of the church to its young people, and Dean Cheverton rendered distinct service.

At night Rev. C. A. Cole spoke on "Simon, the Cross-bearer." With the background, the story of Simon, the Cyrenian, who helped bear the cross for Jesus on His way to Calvary, he stressed the two kinds of cross-bearers, the voluntary and the drafted, and exhorted his hearers to count it all joy to suffer with Christ, that they might reign with Him. Particular emphasis was made of Paul's three-fold appeal "to know Christ, the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His suffering."

A male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Kirk, Mercer, Maple and Abell, sang "In the Class of Christ I Glory." Mr. Abell sang "The Lost Chord."

Announcement was made that the building fund goal is practically reached. As soon as details can be completed by the architect the plans will be submitted for bids.

Men's Class Meeting

The Men's Class of the Central Christian Bible School met last Thursday evening at the home of the teacher, E. W. Bacon, 900 South Glendale avenue. Between 25 and 30 were present. The president of the class, Lee Kaster, called the meeting to order and routine business was transacted. The treasury was found to be in fine condition and the class prospering in every way. Several members were called on for short addresses and then the class took up the matter of conducting the Sunday night services one night each month. On motion it was decided to choose the third Sunday night of each month and that the men would have complete charge of the singing and all the other exercises of the evening. At the close of the session refreshments of sandwiches, coffee, cake and home made candy were served by Mrs. Bacon and her assistants, Mrs. E. O. Smith, Mrs. F. L. Thompson and Mrs. L. Kaster.

Women's Class

The Loyal Women's Class met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. C. Lane, 327 Vine street. About 50 were present. The class voted to use its general fund, amounting to $60, in furnishing its classroom in the new church building. The teacher, Mrs. Eva Hutton, is having wonderful success in her work, due to hard study and careful preparation, and the growth of the class is steady and rapid. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess.

CONGREGATIONAL

The subject of Rev. C. M. Calderwood's sermon at the First Congregational Church, Sunday morning was "What is the Gospel According to You?" Mr. Calderwood said that the world had various gospels and many of these have failed. What the world needs most of all is the Gospel of Jesus, the gospel of justice, peace, hope, service, love and brotherliness. They will get this gospel through us. The responsibility for advancing the kingdom of God is on us. What is our gospel? What is the message of our lives?

The choir under the leadership of Mrs. C. H. Parker, sang, "Lead Us, O Father" and Mrs. Thelma Leaton sang "My Task."

At the evening service Mr. O. E. Von Oven sang a solo and Rev. C. M. Calderwood took for his subject "The Light that Failed," from the text "Our lamps are gone out." He showed that our lives become exhausted but that they may be renewed.

The young people of the church are taking renewed interest in their work and are planning on a reorganization of their society.

The church cabinet is to meet tomorrow night to review the work of the church.

Recently a new constitution for the church has been adopted and has been working out most successfully.

The Church School is taking on new life and interest due to the energetic and efficient leadership of Mr. O. E. Von Oven.

Next Sunday morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered and twenty people will be received into the membership of the church. A large number of people have signified their intention of joining the church at the May communion.
